SUS ⁽¹⁵⁾

SPECIAL SCREENING & PANEL Q&A

Director: Robert Heath. Starring: Ralph Brown, Clint Dyer, Rafe Spall. UK 2010. 91 mins.

Based on Barrie Keeffe's incendiary 1979 play, SUS is a claustrophobic thriller set around the time of Margaret Thatcher's landslide election win. On the night of the election, two cops arrest a West-Indian man named Delroy on suspicion of a serious offence and take him in for questioning. Made all the more poignant by today's changing socio-political climate, Heath's film is a shocking indictment of past institutional ills that will resonate with contemporary audiences.

To honour Black History month the Ritzy will present a special screening of SUS followed by a panel discussion hosted by MIA MORRIS, founder of Black History 365 Magazine and www.black-history-month.co.uk, with the below participants, all of whom have been long time active residents of the Brixton community.
