On the 8th of April 2009, in a high profile raid, armed police arrested twelve students as terrorist suspects.

One, a Liverpool University student, was thrown to the ground and held there at gunpoint for an hour. The Prime Minister boasted of a major terrorist plot being foiled but 3 weeks of interrogations and searches showed no shred of evidence against them and Manchester police said they were innocent. They were 'released' but ten of them, all Pakistani citizens, were immediately re-imprisoned as a 'threat to national security'.

Moved from prison to prison and still held as Category A prisoners currently in Manchester, Milton Keynes and Leeds, they have not been told of any evidence against them and nor have their lawyers. If deported with the shadow of terrorism hanging over them, they will be treated as terrorists in Pakistan.

The North West 10 have been targeted because they are young Muslims at a time when their country is facing intensive bombing as part of the 'war on terror', leading to a massive humanitarian crisis. They need our support in their fight for justice.

Resist this extension of state terror!
